Use conversational data as a leading indicator and turn your contact center into a strategic hub for your business.

The contact center is a rich source of conversational data and customer insights. But mining this data at scale is time consuming and labor intensive. As a result, 98% - 99% of conversational data is left unprocessed.

With Cresta Insights businesses can extract customer insights from conversational data and instantly take action. Identify key trends, answer critical business questions, and uncover unknown unknowns, like why customers are calling in. Use these insights to make data-driven decisions and inform business and contact center strategy.

Instantly answer questions like:

- ❓ Why are my customers calling in?
- ❓ What agent behaviors are driving successful outcomes?
- ❓ What are my customers' most common and pressing objections?
- ❓ Should I worry more about my competitors or the status quo?
- ❓ How is my new pricing and packaging strategy performing?
- ❓ Why is there a sudden uptick in calls about shipping delays?
